

Fred Hazan
Principal Advisor
fhazan@techpargroup.com

Fred Hazan is an accomplished technology leader, innovator, strategist and trusted advisor to senior-level executives on technology solutions and strategy. He actively listens to customers current and future business needs while learning the current state of IT maturity. Fred drives strategic capability creating the long-term roadmap to attain SLA's, improve user experience, simplify, standardize, shrink costs and shed unhealthy legacy approaches.

Mr. Hazan served for over a year as Executive Director of IT Infrastructure at the US Treasury. Previously, Fred served for 15 years at PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as a Global Director of IT concentrating on Network, Security Architecture and Service Portfolio Management, and as AVP of Application Development at The Bank of New York.

Specialties:

- IT Transformation
- Infrastructure Consolidation and Optimization
- Driving Capability Maturity and ITIL Management process
- Team Building - stabilization, Productivity Improvement, project management
- Supplier Management / Contract Negotiation / Sourcing Options
- Product Evaluation and Cost Benefit Analysis
- Project Planning, Prioritization, Justification
- Scalability, Reliability and Performance Improvement
- Risk Reduction / Security Solutions
- Cloud and SaaS, Mobile and BYOD
- Social Solutions, Collaboration and Knowledge Management
- Improving process, removing duplication, creating standards and frameworks
- Enterprise Architecture / Business Alignment

Mr. Hazan holds a BS in both Finance and Computer Systems from American University, Washington DC. Additionally Fred is a certified CISSP and ITIL.